For Residential Clean Energy Property Purchases

Under Title 26 - Internal Revenue Code § 25D, Residential Clean Energy Credit, (the "Code") the Internal Revenue Service allows up to a 30% federal Investment Tax Credit (ITC) for certain costs associated with installing residential clean energy property, such as "qualified solar electric property expenditures" and "qualified battery storage technology expenditures". A "qualified solar electric property expenditure" is an expenditure for property which uses solar energy to generate electricity in a qualified dwelling unit that is located in the United States and is used as a residence by the taxpayer. A "qualified battery storage technology expenditure" is an expenditure for storage technology that has a capacity of not less than 3 kilowatt hours, and which is installed in a qualified dwelling unit that is located in the United States and is used as a residence by the taxpayer. Please refer to the Code and <https://www.irs.gov/credits-deductions/energy-efficient-home-improvement-credit> for complete details and requirements.
